Patricia Sofia van Hauen specialises in insolvency and restructuring, working primarily with the administration of estates in bankruptcy and companies undergoing compulsory dissolution.

Patricia works principally with the administration of smaller estates in bankruptcy, securing and handling estate assets, communications with the company's former management and creditors, and various disputes relating to the bankruptcy.

She also handles compulsory dissolutions and the corporate law problems and issues that those proceedings often entail. For example, she is experienced in the resumption of companies under compulsory dissolution and in the handling of questions relating to operational activities.
