Josephine Athena Østergaard works with insolvency and restructuring law, with a particular focus on estate administration and general advice on issues pertaining to bankruptcies.

Josephine is experienced in the administration of estates in bankruptcy and advising on insolvency law in general. Always adopting a structured and solution-oriented approach, she strives to achieve the best possible solution for the estate in bankruptcy. Josephine has a keen eye for the qualities and characteristics of the specific company and takes care to also accommodate the interests of creditors.

She is also experienced in the handling of companies in compulsory dissolution, offering competent assistance to liquidators and adeptly helping in the handling of issues and questions as they arise.
