Line Gritt Boel Jensen specialises in shipping, offshore and transport law. She assists clients within the industry with all legal aspects of their business activities, including dispute resolution, purchase and sale, financing, etc.

Line advises in disputes involving dry and wet shipping law, including tort, contracts, marine insurance, sanctions, insurance, industrial injuries, arrest, etc. Line has the right of audience before the Danish High Court and has extensive experience in conducting litigation and arbitration in Denmark and abroad.

In addition, Line specialises in negotiating contracts, particularly regarding purchase and sale of ships, offshore projects, new-build contracts, ship conversions, charter parties, transport agreements and tenders. Line has broad international experience, inter alia due to her secondment with Blank Rome's Maritime Industry Team in New York.

Line has always had a strong interest in the shipping industry, and in addition to her work in various maritime organisations, Line has previously taught maritime law at the Danish Shipping Education at "Danske Rederier" (Danish Shipowner's association) for 10 years.

With her commercial approach and her understanding of the clients' business, Line always focuses on creating pragmatic and workable solutions in order to achieve her clients' objectives.

High-profile cases

Line has advised on a substantial number of significant cases within the shipping and transport industry. Some of the publicly accessible cases include:

- Set-off for foreign seafarers (POEA), Danish Supreme Court (U.2022.2855)
- Dan-Bunkering, Bunker Holding, and others (sanctions case, Syria sanctions, Danish State Prosecutor), Odense Municipal Court
- DSB/Waterfront, Danish Eastern High Court

Ratings

Line is rated in Legal 500, where a client has expressed the following endorsement: "I have been working with Line Gritt Boel Jensen for a long time. She has a human touch and is always trying to keep it simple with a pragmatic approach."
